President's CORNER

Last Tuesday's talk by Shawn McCarty about providing free bicycles to everyone who needs them gave us all the opportunity to reflect on the meaning of service to others in our own lives.

We are very fortunate to live in a prosperous country founded on concepts of liberty, where we enjoy many advantages, including ready access to food, culture, medical care, and reliable public utilities. In Rotary, we can add to these assets a plethora of friends who recognize their privilege and dedicate themselves to helping others.

We help our local communities in many ways by learning about their needs, volunteering, and raising funds for nonprofits. We are also finding ways to help people outside the United States in Ukraine, Africa, and elsewhere.

I have a personal bias for helping those who live nearby. Still, I have increasingly come to appreciate Rotary's international commitment to eradicating polio, providing safe drinking water, and supporting educational and medical facilities for impoverished populations and those with special needs.

Simply stated, service is what Rotary is all about. District Governor Serge Poulin, memorialized by District 7790 last weekend, embraced this responsibility and provided a great example of tackling problems with enthusiasm and good humor. Serge cherished the Rotary theme, "Making a Difference," and put it into practice every day. We will miss him!
